Monkey Around in Nicaragua

Howler monkeys are everywhere in this safe, stable Central American country, and so are great attractions for your little monkeys. At Granada's ChocoMuseo, kids partake in the chocolate-making process, from roasting and grinding the cacao beans to mixing and forming cocoa drinks and a chocolate bar they get to take home with them. They can also dive into jungle swimming holes in Ometepe, or learn to surf on San Juan del Sur's gorgeous Pacific Coast. Adventurous teens who are willing to hike up a volcano get rewarded with an adrenaline rush: a 10-minute sand board ride down the mountainside.
